Polyfill Update

Upstream "supply chain vulnerability"

The CRANE lifts the lawn mower onto the BOAT, which sails across the ocean to the DOCK, where the HELICOPTER picks it up and flies it to the airport just in time for the BAGGAGE BUGGY to get it to the AIRPLANE, which zooms it across Big Island to the conveyor belt, which takes it to the FORKLIFT, which loads it on the TRAIN that goes to the station, where the TRUCK is ready to take it home.

Upstream “supply chain vulnerability”

For users of Virtual Y, Activity Finder, and other Website Services “in-page applications”:

There is an important patch available that fixes a major JavaScript issue that can cause Virtual Y, Activity Finder, or Group Schedules not to load. Please ask your agency partners to incorporate the patch in that issue as soon as possible.

For those with Virtual Y websites hosted with YMCA’s Cloud Hosting Service, the team will roll out the patch for you and there is no action needed on your part.

Text Editor Button Button

Using Button Classes in the Text Editor

- The December release added a fix that was intended to improve the process of adding buttons, but the initial fix did not apply well.
- A new solution ~~is in progress~~ has arrived!
